I think the story line is perfect for a free movie so the movie is available here.. So far this movie is about two guys whose father had killed two men of a different class and got away. I think this movie is supposed to be about two guys who will try to take that same thing to the next level. One guy is a martial arts expert who trains in order to teach younger people, the other is not really interested in his studies and tries to survive, he ends up in a fight with the guy that started it and the movie is about two old friends whose friendship will have one thing, one thing only — the movie will go on.. So far this movie is not only about a fight but more about friendship and finding that way to live another day. And to be honest I felt this movie had more heart, and less violence than other movies like Kung Fu Panda and Samurai Jack. It was really interesting to hear it from the perspective of two friends who are very different. It was very enjoyable from the look of the kids who watch the movie.
